

Who We Are

Die Tables SLO is a local business here in beautiful San Luis Obispo. As a team of Cal Poly San Luis Obispo Graduates, we fell in love with the game of Beer Die during our time in college, and we knew it couldn't end after our four years were up.

It is a tradition and a symbol of San Luis Obispo culture for the students of Cal Poly to have a personalized table for their backyards, front yards, adventures to Pirates Cove, the top of Montaña De Oro, or even in Architecture Graveyard for a Cal Poly Senior Project.

We want to make sure every group of people who love a day of tossing has a table that is just for them.

About San Luis Obispo

San Luis Obispo (SLO) is considered a gem of the Central Coast. We are lucky enough to be right in the middle of San Francisco and Los Angeles, each city only a 3-hour drive away. With 44,000 residents, and half of which are Cal Poly students, San Luis Obispo is a paradise that has earned its title of best college town in California.
